

<<PROJECT NAME>>

Final Release Document

Table of Contents

I. Deliverable Package	3
II. Installation Guides	3
III. User Manual	3
1. Overview	3
2. <<Workflow Name 1>>	3
2. <<Workflow Name 2>>	3

I. Deliverable Package

[The section will list all source programs, scripts, documents with version number in this release. You can see the example following table for reference, can customize or delete if not using belong to each project characteristics]

No.	File	Notes
1	XYZ_DB_final.sql	Database, including both table structures and table data
2	XYZ_SRS_final.docx	Final SRS (Requirement) Document
3	XYZ_SDS_final.docx	Final SDS (Design) Document
4	XYZ_Final Product Backlog.xlsx	Final status for the application functions, which include: - Function name, feature, roles, function description (changes compared to the original requirements are highlighted) - In Charge, Planned iteration & Actual iteration - Final status & note on the update you made - The links to the SRS & SDS are tracked
5	XYZ_Issues Report.xlsx	Final issues tracking list of the whole project
6	...	...

XYZ include the student's group code & project code (i.e: G1-HRM, for the group G1 who develop the Human Resource Management system).

Other related deliverables:

- Tagged source codes: <<git lab tag link>>
- Demonstration video: <<YouTube link>>

II. Installation Guides

[Includes installation instructions and configuration guidelines to be able to open & run your source codes with the NetBeans 8.2]

III. User Manual

[In this part, you provide overall descriptions of the application, the briefs of the application's workflows and the details guide of each workflow where the end user can use

1. Overview

[Provide the overview of the application and if could, the workflows description to help user has the overall information of the application]

2. <<Workflow Name 1>>

[Describe the purpose of this workflow before going into details describe the detailed guides for each workflow steps/function/screens. In the details, you need to provide clear text guides with the actual screen shots so that the end-user can use the application accordingly]

2. <<Workflow Name 2>>

...